

Delivering in Delaware? What to Expect.

The Baby-Friendly Hospital Initiative (BFHI) recognizes hospitals that provide the best care to support infant feeding and mother/baby bonding. Five hospitals in Delaware are working toward the “Baby-Friendly Hospital” designation: Christiana Care Health System, Beebe Healthcare, Kent General Hospital, Milford Memorial Hospital and Saint Francis Hospital. What does this mean for you and your baby?

We Promote and Support Breastfeeding

Health care providers recommend only breastfeeding (no formula, food or drinks) as the best way to feed baby. Breast milk gives baby powerful health benefits that formula can’t match. It helps to prevent ear infections, lung infections, diabetes, asthma, allergies, obesity and more. Breastfeeding also helps mom lose the baby weight, and protects against some types of cancer.

What We Do to Support You

Policy and Training: We have a policy to support all mothers in breastfeeding. All our staff members are trained in how to best support breastfeeding moms and babies.

Rooming-In: You and baby will share the same room, so you can stay together 24 hours a day. Rooming in helps you learn baby’s signs of hunger, so you can feed on demand, whenever your baby is hungry. Baby will feed a lot—8-12 times a day! This is normal and will help your milk supply increase more quickly.

Skin-to-Skin: Baby will be placed on your chest, skin-to-skin, right after birth until the first breastfeeding is complete. These “magical minutes” are calm and relaxing. The close contact promotes bonding between mom and baby. It keeps your baby warm and helps breastfeeding begin right away.

Formula Use: Exclusive breastfeeding (no other food or drink) is best for you and your baby. Our goal is to build your confidence in your ability to breastfeed. Giving formula can make breastfeeding more difficult for you both. It can increase the risk of allergies and sickness and makes baby’s tummy work harder to digest it. We will not give your baby any formula, sugar water, or anything else unless there is a medical need.

As your health care providers, it is our job to tell you about the benefits of breastfeeding. After you know the facts, if you prefer to formula feed, we will provide information on safe preparation and feeding of formula.

Pacifiers and Bottles: At our hospitals, babies do not get pacifiers or bottles unless there is a medical need. These plastic nipples may confuse your baby. They should not be used in the early days while you and baby are learning how to breastfeed.

NICU: If your baby needs to stay in the NICU, your breast milk is especially important. We will help you breastfeed or pump breast milk to give your baby the best possible start.

When You Leave the Hospital

We will give you a list of resources for breastfeeding support. It is normal to have at least one question or challenge, especially at the beginning. You can get help from your doctor, our hospital lactation consultants, breastfeeding peer counselors, or a support group like La Leche League or Nursing Mothers, Inc. Breastfeeding can be tough in the beginning, but it's worth the effort! Please call us. We want to help.

Medication: Most prescription and over-the-counter medicines are safe to use while breastfeeding. Check with your health care provider before taking any medication.

Health Insurance: Most insurance plans cover breast pumps, supplies, and visits to a lactation consultant. Call the Member Services phone number on the back of your health insurance card to find out what your plan covers.

Returning to Work: You can continue breastfeeding or pumping milk when you return to work. Planning ahead will make it easier. Employers are required by law to give you break time and a private place to pump. Talk with your employer about your needs. Talk to your lactation consultant, insurance company, or WIC about buying or renting a breast pump for use at work.
